The Board of Directors Fellowship of Friends, Inc. Dobbins, California

I have examined the Balance Sheet of the Fellowship of Friends, Inc., as of December 31, 1971, and the related statements of Income and Fund Balance for the year then ended. My examination was made in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards, and accordingly included such tests of the accounting records and such other auditing procedures as I considered necessary in the circumstances.

During the above initial year of the corporation, there appeared to be a substantial lack of Internal Control in the handling and documentation of cash receipts and disbursements and the consistent recording and keeping of accounting records.

Because of the uncertainty caused by the above mentioned lack of Internal Control that could materially affect the determination of the financial position and result of operations of Fellowship of Friends, Inc., I do not express an opinion on the accompanying financial statements taken as a whole.

Certified Public Accountant

COMMENTS AND RECOMMENDATIONS

The Fellowship of Friends, Inc. was incorporated under the laws of California on April 21, 1971, and received a tax-exempt determination as a religious organization from the California Franchise Tax Board on April 20, 1971, and from the Internal Revenue on June 23, 1971.

As indicated in the auditor's opinion the Internal Control, crucial in any operation's financial record keeping, left much to be desired with the Fellowship of Friends books.

1. Revenues

As suggested already to your staff, there should be receipts made out in numerical sequence for all cash and checks received and the nature and source should be clearly identified on a daily or weekly cash report. These reports then should be tied in with bank deposits. A manila envelope might be well suited for this purpose, listing the distribution of the company's major sources of income, e.g. Drawings from savings accounts, teaching dues, receipts for food, contributions, special projects, etc. in a printed format on the outside, the total of which should correspond with the total receipts kept inside.

All savings account withdrawals should first go into the general account and fully accounted for.

2. Expenses

All payments should be fully documented and preferably, a voucher copy of the check attached to the bill or other evidence of goods or services purchased, or as a minimum, the check number should be written on the specific bill. These bills should also be stamped e.g. purchase authorized: initial payment authorized: initial

All bills should be kept available either in vendor's alphabetical files, or a monthly paid bills file.

Minor expenditures should be handled through an imprest, replenishable petty cash fund, as discussed with your staff. Expecially expenses incurred for "food, beverages and meal preparations" should be clearly identified, since they presumably off-set such receipts and are for a purpose other than for which the Fellowship is exempt.

3. Reimbursed Expenses

Payments to your minister and other authorized personnel for travel, meals, lodging etc. should be fully accounted for by bills, receipts and other identifying substantiation. Separate files for such purpose should be kept.

4. Compensation

In the case of payments other than the above reimbursed expenses, e.g. cash for compensation or payments for clothes to the minister and other personnel, compensation sheets should be kept up and a W-2 form be furnished at the end of the calendar year for "other compensation".

5. Bank Statements and accounts should be reconciled monthly and the canceled checks left with them, in order to avoid unexplained discrepancies. The bank statement reflected a charge of $792 on July 21, 1971, which could not be identified, and the savings account a withdrawal of $1,300 on September 7, 1971 that was not deposited in the general account (a guess that the latter was used for a down payment on a trailer seems unwarranted, since a check seemed to have been drawn for that purpose.)

6. Equipment Ownership

There were numerous payments for trailer and autos although the Fellowship does not seem to hold legal title to this equipment. For this reason such payments were called auto "rent/usage" on the accompanying statements. In another instance vehicle payments were collected from membership and then paid to the lending institution directly without going through the books.

A determination should be made of who really owns the equipment and then followed with transfer of title and corresponding indebtedness to achieve a consistent method of accounting treatment.

- 7. It could not be fully substantiated whether amounts received from Nadia Mattle and David and Bonita Guido were donated surplus or unsecured loans or how repayable. A clarification should be provided.
- 8. An inventory of livestock should be kept up, with dates, purchase price and description, as well as sales information or other disposition.

Similarly, an inventory of major, non-expendable equipment and improvements should be maintained including the above information.

9. For better control purposes, a general ledger should be kept, with traceable monthly postings from the cash receipts, cash disbursements and general journal entries.
